More Beecher-Tilton.

New York, July 31.—The Beecher Investigating Committee will meet again to-night. Frank Carpenter has been summoned to appear. Dr. Storrs says he will testify before the Committee if possible. A special messenger was sent to Narragansett Pier to see Frank Moulton, but failed to find him. Shearman is dumfounded. I have talked with Moulton on this subject. He has nothing to say that will hurt Beecher. Moulton had very peculiar relations with Tilton. His testimony will not hurt Beecher's case. I know what Mr. Moulton testified to, and what he would speak. Moulton has never appeared before the Investigating Committee [illegible] Tracy [illegible] Moulton [illegible]

Reporters have been searching for Henry C. Bowen, but have not been able to find him [illegible] Brooklyn, New York [illegible] Woodstock, Conn.

President Porter, of Yale College, being questioned by a reporter, said he expressed his own feelings as that of the best people he knew, that confidence in Beecher was at present unshaken. He was content to wait for the explanation of Beecher's letters, in the belief that it would prove satisfactory.

Mrs. Stanton Interviewed about the Beecher-Tilton Affair.

New York, August 1.—The Brooklyn Argus has a report of another interview with Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She says she has not the slightest doubt that Mrs. Tilton confessed to Susan B. Anthony, who always speaks the truth, and that the confession was of a criminal intimacy with Beecher, which Tilton has since charged. That Mr. Tilton told the same story to her and Mrs. Bullard, but when Woodhull's thunderbolt fell he flatly denied having made such statements. Miss Anthony said she had a conversation with Mrs. Bullard immediately and recalled to her Tilton's words. She could not tell what testimony Moulton had to give, but he once had, after a visit from Beecher. We have had Plymouth Church on its knees here. She would not appear before the Committee, while the integrity of every witness before that body was impeached, but she would willingly appear before a Court when summoned. The subterfuge of the Committee in attacking the character of Tilton's lady friends proves the strength of his case.

Beecher could not boast of nobler or purer friends among the ladies than Tilton. The latter need not be ashamed of such reformers as Grace Greenwood, Celia Burleigh, Anna Dickinson, Lucy Stone, Susan B. Anthony and Pauline Davis. During a recent visit to Pauline Davis she told her (Mrs. Stanton) that Oliver Johnson had confided to her the same story as told in Frank B. Carpenter's statement.

Another Letter from Beecher.

New York, August 1.—After the publication of Woodhull's story, Mr. Beecher wrote to Mrs. Tilton the following letter, which Mrs. Tilton authorized to be used in any way to serve truth and justice:

My Dear Mrs. Tilton: I hoped you would be shielded from a knowledge of the great wrong that has been done to you and through you to universal womanhood. I can hardly bear to speak of it or allude to the matter, than which nothing can be imagined more painful to a pure womanly nature. I pray for you that your faith fail not. You yourself know the way and power of prayer. God has been your refuge in many sorrows before. He will now hide you in his pavilion until the storm be over and past. The rain that beats down the flower to earth will pass at length and the stem bent but not broken will rise again and blossom as before. Every pure woman on earth will feel that this wanton and unprovoked assault is aimed at you but reaches to universal womanhood! Meantime your dear children will love you with double tenderness and [illegible], against whom the shafts are hurled, will hide you in his heart of hearts. I am glad that this revelation from the pit has given him a sight of the danger that was before hidden by specious appearances and promises of usefulness. May God keep him in courage in the arduous struggle which he wages against adversity and bring him out though much tried like gold seven times refined. I have not spoken of myself. No words could express the sharpness and depth of my sorrow in your behalf, my dear and honored friend. God walks in the fire by the side of those he loves and in heaven neither you nor Theodore nor I shall regret the discipline, how hard soever it may seem now. May He restrain and turn those poor creatures who have been given over to do all this sorrowful harm to those who have deserved no such treatment at their hands. I commend you to my mother's God, my dear friend. May His smile bring light in darkness, and His love be a perpetual summer to you. Very truly yours,

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

Some Very Thin Explanations.

Mrs. Tilton in her examination last evening recounted the efforts she had made to restrain Tilton from following strange women. He had changed entirely the views he had at their marriage. She tried every means to turn the woman Woodhull from her house, and finally sent for the police when she left. She said that the night Susan B. Anthony was there the scene was violent. Tilton did appear in a great [illegible]. She slept with Miss Anthony, but made no such confession as the latter affirms. She told her Tilton had long circulated stories prejudicial to herself and Beecher, but nothing more. She had written no letters affecting improperly herself or Beecher, but had sometimes copied papers which Tilton prepared for her, often not knowing their contents. One of these papers she signed while on a sick bed. She protested that it would wrong Beecher and herself, but Tilton solemnly affirmed that it was for her good and his, and made a promise which he immediately broke to make no use of it that would injure her. She told Dr. Storrs how it was afterward, and denied all the papers said to be [illegible] exculpation of Beecher and herself.

For Beecher, Right or Wrong.

New York, August 1.—At the usual Friday evening meeting, last night at Plymouth Church, allusions to Beecher in prayers were frequent. Mr. Halliday made his remark, "Where the words of [illegible] [illegible] brothers to dwell together in unity." He read letters from old members of the Church expressing great confidence in their pastor.

By Mutual Consent—Who is "I?"

New York, August 1.—The following is published this morning, by mutual friends of Beecher and Tilton: "I know Mr. Tilton told me that Mr. Moulton having learned that Beecher had got possession of a paper which Mrs. Tilton wrote, clearing him of wrong doing, Mr. Tilton went to Beecher's house to get it. I don't know positively whether he used threats, but I know he went with a pistol in his pocket prepared to get the paper by threats if necessary. I know he came away with the paper in his possession. Mr. Tilton told me so at the time."

Dr. Bacon does not like the Responsibility for the Consequences of his Meddling in Other People's Affairs.

New York, August 1.—Dr. Bacon says: "It is my belief that Tilton has been three years seeking to lay this egg and used my letter as a pretext. The Investigating Committee is a poor substitute for legal proceedings, and its verdict in any case will be unsatisfactory. I feel no sympathy for Tilton, and withdraw my confidence in Beecher with the greatest reluctance."

Another of the Beecher Family comes to the Front.

New York, August 1.—The Times says it is widely reported that Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker, an intimate friend of Woodhull, avows her belief that her statements are substantially true, and has herself urged her brother to make a public confession.

Sensible Talk from the Tribune.

New York, August 1.—The Tribune loses hope of Beecher's ability to explain his letters, but in proportion as that explanation is delayed, it adds that the sympathies have been entirely with the great preacher, but says it is just and that Mr. Beecher's friends have been altogether too tardy. A full and convincing statement would not satisfy the demands of a decent public, but it will now require to be fuller and more convincing than would have been necessary last week.

Something from the other Papers.

The Sun calls for Moulton, and says if he is not heard from it will be believed that for some reason he dare not testify.

The World demands of Tilton more proof, and thinks the public ought to exact it of him.

Moulton has not yet returned.

Gen. Tracy to-day said he could not believe Moulton had gone to Europe.

Tilton is Tired.

A reporter called on Tilton to-day, and Tilton, who said without waiting for questions: "Don't ask me any questions. I have nothing to say for myself; nothing that I would care to place before the public. Let everything rest now. I am weary. All all sorts of construction and [illegible] I have told the world [illegible] but the [illegible] more can I say." [illegible] I have been forced [illegible] to let be for good then.

Suicide in Prison.

New York, August 1.—August Van Houten, arrested a couple of days ago for being concerned in the bond forgery in California, was removed from Jersey City yesterday and lodged in the Hudson county jail to await the arrival of the United States Marshal from California. This morning the jailer, on going to Van Houten's room, discovered that he was breathing heavily, and found standing by the prisoner's bed a two ounce vial of laudanum. The jailer administered emetics and sent for a physician. Several doctors answered the call and an effort was made to resuscitate Van Houten. The physicians are divided in opinion as to the possibility of his recovery, but it does not seem likely.

Fire at Muskegon.

Detroit, August 1.—A fire broke out in Muskegon at an early hour this morning and has destroyed nearly half the city.

Muskegon, August 1.—The portion of the city then burned contained mostly wooden buildings. The eastern portion of the city ablaze[illegible] the fire originated in Harris' foot [illegible] store on Western Avenue, and everything was burned to the railroad depot. About 300 dwellings and 100 places of business were destroyed.

Combination of Capitalists.

New York, July 31.—The European agency of [illegible] Ruelce [illegible] Paris [illegible] Laffite & Co. Paris [illegible] have been amalgamated under arrangements made between them for a long term of years, and the agency of the former company here will be hereafter with the United States Agency [illegible] London and Paris.

The War of Races.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Affairs in Mississippi.

Washington, July [illegible].—[illegible] the President [illegible] affairs in Vicksburg is alarming; that hostile armed organizations exist, and that bodies armed in violation of the law assume guardianship of peace. The controversy is political. The Democrats who are white and Republicans who are mostly black, each fear trouble and violence from the other. The Democrats who are in [illegible] of he situation oppose the presence of troops. He asks: Can there be any serious or harmful results from sending troops there? Will it not be the least of evils to have troops there in case of emergency?

Secretary Belknap sent the following reply: Hon. A. Ames, Jackson, Miss.—Your dispatch has been submitted to the President. He declines to move troops except under a call made strictly in accordance with the terms of the Constitution.

Complaints against France.

Madrid, July 31.—The Diparoul makes the following specifications of complaint against France: Arms bearing the royal initials of Don Carlos have been publicly sold at Bayonne; manufactors at Bordeaux has been allowed to undertake contracts for supplying the Carlist army with boots and shoes; the Duchess of Madrid, the wife of Don Carlos, has been suffered to reside at Paris without [illegible] disturbed; the demand for the extradition of [illegible] [illegible] has been refused by France and his return into Spain not prevented; the Prefect of the Department of Lower Pyrenees, who promoted the public entry of Carlists into Spain, is still retained in office; one thousand armed recruits for the Carlists have crossed the frontier; two cargoes of arms from France have been landed for the Carlists.

French Politics.

Paris, July 1.—In the Assembly to-day the question of recess came up for debate. Gambetta made an important speech, protesting against the prorogation of the session, but really in favor of the Republic. Prorogation, he said, was simply intended to conceal the impotence of the Assembly, which, although it arrogated to itself to constitute powers, had done nothing but successively to reject all known forms of government. The Right was responsible for whatever might happen. The organization of a septennate was impossible as a monarchy. He made a powerful appeal for the establishment of the Republic, which would give peace and union to France, and concluded by demanding that the state of siege be raised. The speaker was tumultuously applauded by the Left. During subsequent debate the Marquis De Franclieu, legitimist, declared he considered it his right and duty to do everything in his power to re-establish the monarchy. This caused great excitement and the Left called for the views of the Government on the subject. General De Cissey, Vice President of the Ministerial Council, replied that the Government would seek with firmness and impartiality to make its powers respected by all parties.

The motion to raise the state of siege was rejected by 242 to 360. A motion to adjourn on the 6th of August until the 13th of November was finally carried by a large majority.

Violent Scene in the French Assembly.

Paris, August 1.—There was a violent scene in the Assembly to-day. M. Brun, a Bonapartist, yesterday used the expression that the Republic had succumbed before the scorn of honest men. To-day he was challenged by members of the Left to repeat the words, which he did. Thereupon Victor Schoelcher, a Republican, gave him the lie, and several Deputies from the Left rushed toward him shouting and shaking their fists. The President of the Assembly, unable to restore order, suspended the sitting. It is probable that several duels will follow.

Bonapartism at a Discount.

The Permanent Committee of the Assembly which sits during the recess has been elected. It is composed of six Legitimists, ten members of the moderate Right and Left Center, and nine of the Left. The Bonapartists are wholly excluded.

Young Vinter had been out shooting in the day in company with his half brother Will and returned home, when two of his boy friends, Al. Morgan and Chris. Hoffman called, when he decided and prompted to accompany on a shooting trip, and without waiting for breakfast the gun started out. The boys had reached and were crossing a fence between the fields of the [illegible] and Sullivan property, about half a mile east of town. Vinter being on top of the fence pulling the gun toward him when it was discharged, the load of shot taking effect in his right breast, ranged upward, and he died in two minutes. The body was removed to his late residence, a jury impaneled, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above.

An Albany dentist started for Washington City last Monday, whither he goes to secure patents on several useful inventions of his. Among others is the pencil sharpener of which we have previously spoken. He also has an invention for preventing cars from running off the track; also a caller for attaching to a knife handle—the neatest and handiest thing out. He has also invented a lady's fan which runs itself.

Mr. C. Landreth writes us from Coos river that business is lively in that county. Shipbuilding and coal digging are both going on at a lively rate, also lumbering, and the county now commences to have the appearance of a business locality. They have a reality of sunshine and prosperity that will doubtless increase, and last till the whole Coos Bay region is alive with enterprise and industry, and command respect and influence as a rich and wealthy community.

On last Sabbath, as the family of Mr. Isaac Winkle, living some nine miles south of Corvallis, were at church, fire was in some way communicated to a pile of rubbish near the barn. From this it spread to an oat field near by, and to a lot of straw and manure adjoining the barn and granaries. The oat field is slightly damaged and about 2,000 rails were burned. At one time it seemed doubtful if the barn could be saved, as a large pile of straw and chaff was on fire within a very few feet of it.

A gentleman just from Yamhill county informs us that farmers are now busy harvesting their fall grain. With few exceptions it has more foul trash than usual. Grangers have purchased their own sacks and say that they will not sell until they get good prices, looking to a fleet of vessels that will compel shippers to pay higher rates rather than demurrage. At North Yamhill Station Grange warehouse is not yet completed. Anticipate it will be ready about the 10th of this month. The Clarendon Flour Mill, formerly the North Yamhill, started up on new wheat on 31st of July.

McMinnville was aroused by the cry of fire about two o'clock on Saturday before last, and in a few minutes a lively crowd had gathered at the planing mills, from whence the alarm proceeded, and in about three minutes and a half they had the flames squelched out. A spark from the furnace, it is supposed, alighted on the ceiling above the office and kindling into a blaze quickly caught in the roof above and commenced spreading rapidly. A small opening was burned through the roof, but the damage was slight, principally to the office fixtures and books and papers, which were somewhat soiled by water and torn to pieces while getting them out.

The Salem Statesman of last Saturday says: "The man run over by the express train Thursday evening is believed to be L. Morris, from papers found in his pocket. He is at the Home for the Sick, under the medical treatment of Drs. Carpenter and Payton. His injuries are much more serious than were at first supposed, his left leg being broken, his shoulder dislocated, as well as injuries of an internal nature, making his condition critical in the extreme, there being but little hopes of his recovery. Prof. Smith has taken a warm interest in the stranger and is doing his best to find out who his friends are. His being a deaf mute but increases the anxiety of those in charge of him."

The following is a list of deputy surveyors who have been awarded contracts and have gone into the field in Oregon up to July 30. The following is the list, with the amount and locality in which the surveys are to be made: N. O. Walden, lands in Umatilla county, contract $3,500; J. A. Hurlburt, Tillamook county, $3,000; Alonzo Gesner, Grant county, $5,000; W. H. Odell, Grant county and Ochoco country in Wasco county, $5,000; H. C. Perkins, Wasco county, $4,000; Benj. F. Vaughn, Baker county, on Burnt river, $4,000; Jas. Howard, Douglas and Coos counties, $4,000; W. W. Byars, Curry county, $5,000; T. M. Dick, Lane and Benton, $3,500; E. P. Henderson, Benton county, Yaquina country, $5,000; W. B. Pengra, Jackson county, $2,832; Geo. S. Pershin, Grant county, Silver Lake country, $5,000; J. H. Evans and J. G. Gray, Jackson county, $5,000.

An important meeting of the Linn County Central Grange Association was held in Albany Tuesday of last week to devise the most effective and speedy method of securing the improvement of the Willamette river and its opening to navigation the year round. It was decided to appoint a committee of five persons—three on behalf of the grangers and farmers and two on behalf of the city of Albany—whose duty it should be to solicit contributions, let the contract to responsible parties and disburse the funds collected for the purpose of improving the river along the margin of Linn county. The Association appointed Messrs. W. F. Alexander, C. P. Burkhart and E. A. Irvine, and by request the Common Council last Tuesday night appointed Messrs. J. H. Hackleman and Thos. Monteith on behalf of the city. This committee has already commenced work and are now canvassing for subscriptions.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Commander Kennedy, of H. M. S. Reindeer, has been promoted to be a Captain and has gone home.

The tenders for blasting the rocks out of Victoria harbor have been forwarded to Ottawa by telegraph.

Tenders for construction of the British Columbia penitentiary were opened at Ottawa on the 22d of July.

Bush fires are prevalent around New Westminster, in some instances threatening private property and destroying fences, bridges, etc.

The Governor General of Canada has contributed a medal for competition at the Collegiate School in Victoria, to be awarded annually.

The first number of a new monthly publication has been issued at Victoria. It is under the control of the Wesleyan Methodists of British Columbia, and is called Earnest Christianity.

Officers McNamara and Morey proceeded on information to the camp of Mr. J. Grant on Sunday morning last, where they took into custody three sailors who had deserted from the ship Southern Ocean, now loading at Burrard Inlet.

The crops on the Yakima are not heavy this year, but are sufficient for the use of the people, they having no market except that they send a few provisions to the Naches mines. The miners are not doing a great deal yet. On the river they are putting in a flume and hope to do well after a little. Money is scarce in the valley; horses being the principal circulating medium. Cows with calves are worth from $10 to $13; yearlings $6 to $7; two year olds $12; three-year olds $15 to $16; beef cattle three cents per pound; good American work horses $100; Cayuses from $2 50 to $12.

The Idaho Statesman says: "The crickets came down like a wolf on the fold, and the crops on the ranche of I. P. Gile at the mouth of Moore's creek melted away before them as listless march like dew before the morning sun. Mr. Gile saved two acres of corn all nicely silked out, by cutting it up to feed to his stock next winter. Not a green thing is now left standing upon the ranche which one week ago promised an abundant harvest."

THE BEECHER-TILTON CASE.

Conclusion of Tilton's Examination.

Following is the concluding portion of the cross examination of Tilton before the Investigating Committee:

Tilton next testified as to the letter of Mrs. Tilton, or her confession of retraction. What struck him as so damnable in Mr. Beecher was that after coming and confessing to himself and Moulton his criminal relations with Mrs. Tilton and then going round the corner to see her should have come back in half an hour and expressing his absolute heart broken ness, whereas, he had in his pocket this retraction from her. It was damnable and nefarious. When he saw Beecher at Moulton's house he (Tilton) locked the door and narrated Elizabeth's confession. It was a long one, and it would have been indelicate to touch it with any more elaboration than he did here. He did not wish to be questioned about it. It was a long story. The retraction was returned to him through Mr. Moulton. It is now in Moulton's safe, but he (Tilton) had a copy of it. The letter of apology is in Moulton's writing except the last line and the signature. If he (Tilton) had been present at the time it would never have been written.

The money dispute with Bowen was next alluded to. Tilton said: "The more I quarrelled with Mr. Beecher the better Mr. Bowen liked it. If, as a result of the controversy, Mr. Beecher should be dead, Bowen would not have been a mourner, but would uplift the hand of gladness. He (Bowen) never wanted peace with Beecher. He always wanted war with Beecher. He is the enemy of Beecher, and would rejoice in his downfall. The letter beginning 'My Dear Frank:—I am determined to make no resistance. Theodore's temperament is such,' etc., is in Moulton's possession. Tilton's letter to complaining friends was written to nobody, but was a public card. It contained a number of ingenious subterfuges, but didn't amount to anything. He wrote it thinking it would please Elizabeth. Its effect was to perpetuate the scandal.

Q.—The scandal would have died out long ago, would it not? It has only been kept alive by your writings.

A.—I have acted like a fool—I admit.

Tracy—We all concede that, and do not [illegible] to call any witnesses to prove it. You have quoted the letters of your wife to prove what your home was in 1868.

A.—I quoted them to show what it was previous to her surrender to him.

Q.—You have stated that there were acts of criminality at Beecher's house, and secondly at your own house. Do you pretend to have personal knowledge of these acts?

A.—The only knowledge is Mrs. Tilton's confession. I was absent at the time.

The remainder of the testimony related to an attempt which failed to prevail upon Beecher to preside at the Woodhull meeting at Steinway Hall, and to Tilton's relations with various women, the names all being omitted, except those known as the Reformers, and women of public reputation, the purpose of the Committee being to show that the peace of Tilton's house was destroyed by his own acts. The letters which Tilton quoted from were, he said, in the hands of Moulton.

BEECHER'S COUNSEL INTERVIEWED.

New York, July 27.—Mr. Beecher went to Peekskill Saturday, and remained at his country seat all day Sunday, not attending church, as was his usual custom. T. G. Shearman, his counsel, was with him, and no other person was permitted to see him except a few relations and personal friends. Mr. Shearman was interviewed by a reporter. He could not say whether Mr. Beecher would present a written statement or not; that was for the Committee to decide. If any statement were made its publication would depend wholly on the Committee. Mr. Shearman deprecated excessive publicity to the investigation. He believed decidedly that Beecher's case would be made brighter by the clearing away of all that obscured it. He declared the Graphic's pretending to give an abstract of Beecher's statement, a graphic invention. In regard to the personnel of the Investigating Committee, he stamps as absurd the reports that all of them were Beecher's friends; three were such, but the other three were strong friends of Tilton, and with one of them he used to leave all his money when he went lecturing. Another absurdity was calling Tracy and Hill Beecher's counsel. Beecher never had seen them; they were retained by the Committee. Of the outcome of the investigation there was no shadow of doubt; the Committee already had more than enough to clear Beecher.

COMPROMISE IMPOSSIBLE.

Mr. Tilton stated to a reporter of the Brooklyn Eagle to-day that compromise was now impossible; that he had been approached several times on the subject; that Mr. Sage, one of Mr. Beecher's sturdiest friends, came to see him last week and anxiously urged him to withdraw, but that he could not.

MRS. STANTON COMES FORWARD AGAIN.

Mrs. Stanton denies the allegation by Tilton, in his cross examination, that Mrs. Tilton was not friendly with Miss Anthony. Mr. Wilkinson came to ladies who knew about the matter and besought them not to make it public. To him it was a matter of money. He was a stockholder in Plymouth Church, in the Christian Union and in the "Life of Christ." Now the destruction of Mr. Beecher would be the destruction of all these, and as Mr. Wilkinson expressed it, "would knock their 'Life of Christ' higher than a kite." Hence his concern in keeping the matter secret.

MISS ANTHONY ON A LECTURING TOUR.

Rochester, July 27.—A reporter called at Miss Anthony's residence to-night and learned that she was absent from the city on a lecturing tour. Information was given by her relatives that she would probably not testify in the Beecher-Tilton scandal case unless compelled to do so by legal proceedings.

ARREST OF TILTON.

New York, July 25.—Theodore Tilton was arrested this afternoon on two charges of libel against Henry Ward Beecher, and brought before Justice Reilley of Brooklyn at 7 o'clock. He was seated in his parlor when he was arrested and treated the matter with the utmost composure. His bail was fixed at $2,500, but upon his giving his word of honor that he would appear at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning with bondsmen he was allowed to go until that time on his own recognizance. The prosecutions are based upon his recent statement arraigning Beecher. He was arrested at the instance of Wm. J. Gaynor, of Brooklyn, a lawyer, a member of the Argus staff, who says the object of the arrest is to bring out all the facts. Great excitement prevails in Brooklyn, and the matter is discussed in all the leading New York hotels. Following are the affidavits in the case:

"State of New York, Kings county, ss.—Wm. J. Gaynor, of No. 38 First place, being duly sworn, deposeth and saith that on the 20th day of July Theodore Tilton did falsely, maliciously, and scandalously frame, make, write, compose and cause to be published in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, published in the city of Brooklyn, in said county, on the 20th day of July 1874, certain false, scandalous and libelous writings concerning and against Henry Ward Beecher, to wit: That for a period of about fifteen years extending both before and after this marriage, an intimate friendship existed between Theodore Tilton and Henry Ward Beecher, which friendship was cemented to such a degree that in consequence thereof the subsequent dishonoring by Mr. Beecher of his friend's wife was a crime of uncommon wrongfulness and perfidy. That about nine years ago Rev. Henry Ward Beecher began and thereafter continued a friendship with Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, for whose native delicacy and extreme religious sensibility he often expressed to her husband high admiration, visiting her from time to time for years until the year 1870, when for reasons hereafter stated, he ceased such visits, during which period, by many tokens and attentions he won the affectionate love of Mrs. Tilton, whereby, after a long moral resistance by her, and after repeated assaults by him upon her mind with overmastering arguments, he accomplished possession of her person, maintaining with her thenceforward during the period herein after stated relations called 'criminal intercourse,' this relation being regarded by her during that period as not criminal or morally wrong, such has been the power of his arguments as a clergyman to satisfy her religious scruples against such a violation of her vow and honor." Wherefore deponent prays that defendant may be apprehended and dealt with according to law.

Sworn to before me this 28th July.

(Signed) THOMAS M. REILLEY,
Justice of the Peace, City of Brooklyn.

Another affidavit is on account of the publication of Tilton's card. A warrant was issued, sworn to and immediately served on Tilton, who went at once and pleaded "Not guilty," and was instructed to appear to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

TILTON'S ARREST.

New York, July 29.—When arrested yesterday Tilton said if the complaint comes from [illegible] [illegible] instead of R. Tilton sent word to ex-Judge Morris to call on him this morning. Gaynor, who brings the scandal into court, says: "Now, this thing will come to a climax. Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Woodhull, Frank Moulton, Mrs. Tilton and everybody else will have to testify there. The Committee could never make them testify. I don't know whether Beecher is innocent or guilty, but I want to see, and the only way to see is in a judicial tribunal." Gaynor said he did not know Tilton, neither liked or disliked him, but simply as a citizen he wished to bring the scandal to a focus and help to crush it either in proving its truth or falsity.

TILTON IN COURT.

New York, July 29.—The Third District Court [illegible], was crowded from an early hour this morning with [illegible] to see the trial of Tilton for libel on B[illegible] at the suit of J. G. Gaynor. Tilton entered the Court room at 10 o'clock [illegible] by his counsel, ex-Judge S. D. Morris. Gaynor with a number of [illegible] was already there. After [illegible] was [illegible] by the Judge to step to the room where Mr. Tilton was [illegible] the calling of his case. Justice Reilly followed, and as soon as he mentioned the [illegible] Mr. Tilton said he objected to a [illegible], an adjournment was taken to the [illegible] Court room. Mr. [illegible] was [illegible] by the Court if he had any [illegible] to make, and replied that he had spoken to the [illegible] and whether this case was brought by Mr. Beecher through him, and was answered that he took the case entirely on his own responsibility. The counsel argued that this case should not have been called to gratify the cravings of public scandal. He [illegible] the matter stand over till Monday next, that he might take counsel with the representative of the people in this State.

Gaynor argued that he had not violated any of the laws of the State, and it was his (Gaynor's) duty as a citizen to bring him into Court to answer. He thought he had a public right to bring Tilton here for a preliminary examination. If defendant chose he could let his case go before a grand jury. He had consulted no person, was [illegible] on his present course by no one, but only appeared as a member of the community.

Ex-Judge Morris submitted that there was no object in view by this prosecution except to gain notoriety.

Gaynor wished to know if defendant waived an examination or demanded a hearing, or wished to summon Henry Ward Beecher or some other witness for the examination.

Ex-Judge Morris asked that the case be set down for Monday next, as his client was not prepared for an examination, and besides, counsel wished to consult with the District Attorney. Both parties consented to an adjournment for hearing until Monday next.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE MAN WHO CAUSED THE ARREST OF TILTON.

Boston, July 29.—A reporter this morning sought some information about Wm. M. Gaynor, who caused the arrest of Mr. Tilton, at Brooklyn, and ascertained that he was formerly an employe of C. W. Everett & Co., of the Merchants' Bureau for Collections, as attorney. It appears that this firm first hired Gaynor in the fall of 1872 in Utica, N. Y., where he was employed as a law clerk, on a salary of $10 a week. Everett & Co. gave him about $2,000 a year. Gaynor remained there until January, 1874, when, failing to give satisfaction, he was discharged. He next tried his hand as secretary for another collection firm, and immediately commenced and attempted—so Everett says—to ruin his (Everett's) business by sending letters to clients derogatory to him (Everett). He says some six hundred such letters were sent out, specimens of which he has in his possession, and he declared every one of the charges false. Gaynor brought suits against Everett, but did not carry them into court. In March last he went to New York or Brooklyn. Mr. Everett did not think Gaynor was intimate with Butler, as has been reported, but knew he was an ardent supporter of that gentleman. Gaynor is 27 years old.

BOWEN AND BEECHER.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29th.—The Sentinel this morning published the interview of Hon. E. D. Holton, referred to in dispatches last evening as being present when Bowen said that the tripartite agreement was no retraction of the charges against Beecher, so far as he (Bowen) was concerned. Holton admitted that he was present, and that he remembered the conversation, but declined to give any details at present.

THE FREE LOVE ORGAN ON THE SCANDAL.

New York, July 29.—A large portion of this week's issue of Woodhull & Claflin's Weekly is devoted to giving a history of the Beecher-Tilton scandal and the developments lately made, also several articles, written in connection with the same subject, in advocacy of free love. In a card the editors announce that they will fearlessly review all the testimony given before the Plymouth Church Committee, but not until the testimony is all in; that there has been any amount of lying and prevarication, but they will take their own time to expose it, and that the truth, the whole truth, will and shall come, and every party to the affair take his or her just position. Statements made by Elizabeth Cady Stanton in an interview with a reporter is incorporated in an article headed "Light breaking through the clouds." The article states that Tilton, Mrs. Tilton, Wilkinson and the whole lot except Mrs. Stanton have spoken with no other idea than to cover up the truth. Mrs. Stanton's words are the first unadulterated ray of light that has yet shone on the affair.

MOULTON'S BONDS.

The Weekly calls on the Investigating Committee to summon Beecher, Tilton and Moulton, and ask the two former to release Moulton from his bonds of secrecy, that he may testify to the whole truth, and says that the refusal of either party to comply would be a confession very damaging to that party. It also calls upon them to summons both Mrs. Stanton and Miss Anthony, these three parties are most important witnesses. There is also an article headed "The Great Social Earthquake," written by Woodhull. She reviews the whole Beecher scandal, and takes occasion to inveigh against the marriage institution as it exists at present. She acknowledges her agency in undertaking this so-called scandal and holding it up to exposure, for the purpose of aiding moral and social progress.

TILTON'S EFFORTS TO SEE HIS WIFE.

Mr. Ovington said this evening that Tilton had called three times since his wife's separation from him, and demanded to see her. Every time she had refused to see him. Mr. Tilton explains his calls by saying that he wished to tell Mrs. Tilton that she was welcome to any article of furniture she desired from her late residence. She construes his visits differently.

Genial Man.—The city editor of a Nashville paper was assaulted at his desk, a thousand extra copies of the issue containing an account of the rumpus were sold, and the responsible editor, who may be suspected of part proprietorship, invited the [illegible] to come again.

THE WAR OF RACES

The Democracy of Alabama has spoken and there is no ambiguity in its speech upon one of the questions that is rapidly rising into vital importance in the Southern States. The opinion of the Democracy as expressed in their resolutions is that the attitude of the Republicans toward the subject of the equality of the white and black races before the law necessitates a consolidation of all the white people of the South against the Republicans. The war of races is thus proclaimed by the Democracy. It had been the hope of liberal minded and thoughtful people that this unaccountable hostility of the white race to the black people would die out as soon as experience demonstrated that equality before the law does not compel any man's tastes and that association is, after all, determined by taste and individual choice and not by legal relations, but it is plain that hope was not well founded. The negrophobia that once formed the head of the corner in Democratic politics has not been eradicated, but breaks out afresh and seems likely to become again as it once was the distinctive feature of the party.

There is no question that the colored people of those States in which they have a majority, or in which circumstances have given them the ascendency in public affairs, have been less judicious and considerate in the exercise of their new powers than the white people, with all their advantages of education, and accustomed immemorially to bear rule, would have been. No intelligent person, howsoever firmly grounded in his convictions of the inherent wrongfulness of placing one race above another in civil rights and thus establishing distinctions in political privileges upon the accident of color will contend that the colored people of the South who have just emerged from the darkness of bondage are as well prepared for the higher duties of citizenship as that race which has always enjoyed the benefits and advantages of freedom. But this fact instead of exciting the prejudices of the whites and causing them to wish to deprive the colored people of civil rights should rather excite their generous sympathies and inspire in them a desire to assist the freedmen wherever they can in acquiring the qualifications necessary to the proper use of their new privileges. It can hardly be supposed that the negroes can hold a permanent ascendency over the white race unless intelligence combine with numbers to keep them in power. The war of races is therefore as unnecessary as it is unjust. No one who has watched the progress of events in the South since the war, can deny that the reconstruction of most of the States has been but another name for the most gross, scandalous outrages upon the rights and feelings of the people. But that has been largely owing to the demoralization of the whole community by the war and largely to the fact that a majority of the men who have had control of Southern politics have been mere carpet bag adventurers, with no stake in the land and no character anywhere. The period of this sort of sway must in the nature of things be short. And the way for the white people of the South to hasten the happy day of its end is to accept cheerfully the irreversible decision of the country in favor of legal and political equality, and go to work themselves honestly and earnestly to rehabilitate their States and themselves in the power that superior intelligence and virtue vouchsafe. They will find only wasted energies and helpless mortification as the results of their attempted combination of the white people of the South against the blacks.

LATEST PHASES OF THE GREAT SCANDAL

The Beecher Tilton plot thickens. Other witnesses turn up, and those whose testimony has been expected fail to come to the front. Mrs Isabella Beecher Hooker, a sister of the reverend gentleman accused, it is announced, has expressed her belief that the charges are true and has endeavored to persuade her brother to make a public confession. We do not credit this story. It is so out of the natural order of things that we can not believe it without confirmation.

Then Mr Frank Moulton cannot be found, and it is rumored he has gone to Europe. This looks suspicious. Beecher [illegible] not afford to have it true. A search for Henry C Bowen, who is said to have possessed knowledge of damaging facts, results in the discovery that he is not to be found. Too many cases of this kind.

Pauline Davis adds her testimony to that of Mr Frank Carpenter to convict Oliver Johnson of lying. We shall not be surprised if Johnson's friendship for Beecher should prove rather an injury than a benefit.

Dr Bacon tries to shift from himself the responsibility of having stirred up this unhappy affair by his officiousness, and in his remarks on the subject manages to say that he has no sympathy with Tilton and thinks it is about time to withdraw whatever trust he may have placed in Beecher.

Dr Porter, President of Yale College, is reported to have said he and all other good persons like himself, have unshaken faith in Beecher, and that his statement is waited for with the patience of perfect confidence which is Dr Porter's say so. A great many old members of Beecher's Church, allowing their zeal for their beloved minister to get the better of their sense, write gushing letters containing their verdict without waiting to hear the evidence. Meanwhile the [illegible], avowedly Beecher's friend, says just what the OREGONIAN has said, namely that Beecher is injuring his case immensely by unaccountable delay. Delay is so dangerous that it is hard to see how another week of this inexplicable and suspicious silence can fail to destroy the advantage which Beecher had at the outset in the confidence of the community.

The immediate parties to this horrible affair seem to have an idea they are on trial before the packed jury of Plymouth Church merely. That is the smallest part of the truth. They are on trial before the people of America and before United Christendom. The verdict of the Plymouth Committee will be of no more importance comparatively than the verdict of a Coroner's jury in a murder case. The Christian world is going to decide the case on the evidence, and its verdict will be true whether all the evidence that ought to be produced is forthcoming or whether the fact of its suppression must be substituted for the testimony itself.

MISSISSIPPI CARPET BAGGERS IN TROUBLE

Governor Ames of Mississippi is in tribulation. He renews the urgent request sent to Washington in his absence by the Lieutenant Governor for federal troops to be sent to Vicksburg to assist in carrying the election. If it does not say in so many words that such is the use which he desires to make of the military, but the history of events in that section of the Union justifies the inference and the manner of preferring the request scarcely conceals such a purpose. The way he puts it is that the Democrats are masters of the situation and that infantry and cavalry exist and bodies armed in violation of law assumed to be the conservators of the peace. This is suggestive if not alarming. Doubtless the source of greatest anxiety is the prospect that when the votes are counted the Democracy will still be master of the situation. For some time past it has been a customary practice in the South to fly to the National Executive for relief and protection, when it appeared likely that a fair ballot would end the reign of carpet bag fraud.

But Governor Ames declares that "cavalry and infantry exist." Suppose they do what of it? The passive existence of cavalry and infantry in Mississippi does not, as we conceive, necessarily imply armed resistance to the laws of the Government. We have never heard it suggested that the peace and good order of Portland were threatened by the existence of the infantry and artillery companies of which our people are justly proud.

But, urges Ames, "bodies armed in violation of law" are organized. It will be a new doctrine to most Americans and one, we opine, which will not be received with the keenest relish, that a citizen has not the right to arm as he pleases, in time of peace only so he keeps within the police regulation. If there is a law in Mississippi that prohibits the citizens from organizing in form similar to military companies, at their own expense, and for no purpose inimical to the peace of society the law should be got off the statute book as soon as possible.

There may be some grounds for Governor Ames' apprehensions, but he wholly fails to make it apparent that there is and until he makes such a showing the President does right in refusing to comply with the request to send forces to Vicksburg.

SPAIN COMPLAINS OF FRANCE

A cable telegram gives the particulars of a very remarkable article in the Madrid Imparcial, making specifications of grievance against France. It is remarkable, considering its source, in the extraordinary character of some of the grounds of complaint. For instance, complaint is made that the wife of Don Carlos has been permitted to reside in Paris without molestation. We have no recollection that such a complaint was ever before made against a nation. The Duchess of Madrid, although her husband is Don Carlos, is not in contemplation of international law, a rebel against the Spanish Government. If the Carlists are to be regarded merely as rebels then nobody is included in the crime except those actually engaged in its commission, for rebellion does not carry with it the fiction which in the case of belligerent nations makes every subject of each of the belligerents an enemy, whether engaged in the hostilities or not. If Don Carlos is simply a rebel, Mrs Don Carlos may lawfully reside anywhere in the world and need not fear lawful molestation. And if, on the other hand, the Carlists are entitled to be considered as belligerents in the technical sense of the term, a neutral nation may permit the wife of Don Carlos, or any other non-combatant of either side to reside within its territory without violating any principle of international law.

Some of the grounds of complaint set forth in the Imparcial, such, for example as the fitting out of troops to aid the Carlist cause, are certainly well taken if true but others are wholly untenable. And Spain is surely in no condition to enforce any demand she may make for satisfaction. Of the two nascent republics she is decidedly the weaker at home and abroad.

The Indiana Democracy say the way to solve all the financial questions is to issue greenbacks enough to pay off the National debt and then resume specie payments. How is that for high?

CITY.

RETURNED FROM [illegible].—Among the absentees from this vicinity who are still rusticating or [illegible] business, we note the following registered at Arrigoni's, Astoria, during the past week: Mrs. Burdon and [illegible] Mrs. White, house and daughter, Mr. Fox, Mrs. Esther Campbell, [illegible] Mr. Miller [illegible] H. Eckersley, J. M. Wilbur and wife, C. H. Lewis, Dr. Alfred Kinney, wife and [illegible] W. Hillias, F. H. Stolte, Major Bell, Mr. Bacon, daughter and son, [illegible] W. Scott, wife and children, Dr. Dolme and wife, Capt. Flavel, Strang, [illegible] Henry Hayes, [illegible] ferty, [illegible] Wells [illegible] Wilbur, [illegible] H. C. Bakers, [illegible] Hayes and others. Most of these were bound to Seaside [illegible] have since returned [illegible] The exodus for the breathing [illegible] continues, and we shall endeavor to keep our readers informed of the departures from the city to the watering places or points where leisure time can be spent and health restored thereby.

[illegible] —Owing to continued feeble health, we learn that Rev. Dr. McCarty, now a resident of Vancouver, finds it necessary to return East where he will in all probability spend the remainder of his days. Dr. McCarty came to the [illegible] as Chaplain of Fort Vancouver. He also had charge of Trinity [illegible] Portland from that time until October 1854. At this latter date he removed to [illegible] In 1856 he returned to Vancouver where he remained as chaplain until 1865 when by his own request he was placed upon the retired list. While there he organized St. Luke's Parish and held services in a small building fitted up for the purpose till his return and subsequent removal to the East. Dr. McCarty and his estimable wife purpose leaving about the 6th or 7th inst., and will go to Saratoga or Balston Spa, where they will spend a few weeks and then proceed to Washington to spend the winter.

A TERRIBLE FALL.—A colored man, named Martin Jennings, met with a severe accident last Saturday evening by being thrown from a horse. Jennings was passing through the city about 8 o'clock on horseback with a large package under each arm. Just as he came opposite [illegible] the animal on which he was seated took a sudden fright and began to rear and plunge. The rider kept all control and was pitched forward to the ground striking violently on his head. The force of the blow knocked Jennings entirely senseless. He was picked up by the police officers and brought to the city jail. For a long time he was unconscious and it was thought that the vital spark had fled. At length the man recovered and late in the evening was able to walk home. Jennings at last accounts was in a fair way to recover.

PASSENGERS COMING.—The steamer John L. Stephens which sailed from San Francisco for Portland last Saturday morning, brings the following passengers: Hon. S. J. Field, S. I. Butterworth, J. D. Walker, Mrs. Menage, M. McKinley, Mrs. M. J. Patten, P. Wasserman, Gen. W. Vandever, Ben Schloss, Mrs. S. H. Wheeler and daughter, Mrs. Parrish and two children, T. G. Hogan, C. W. Hobb, R. M. Hobb, G. A. Patterson, G. D. Beach, C. Kohn, L. Barclay, J. M. Barber, S. Selling, Captain Rockwell, Mrs. Capt. I. R. Theiler, Mrs. J. Snyder, Miss J. M. Curtis, R. M. Carver, J. Kong, A. H. Jewett and wife, N. P. Bolton, wife and three children, O. C. [illegible]ton and wife, J. L. Gould, Mrs. M. A. McCann, J. King.

A SHOCKING AFFAIR.—Our attention was attracted on Saturday by a large crowd running towards First street. We made extra exertions to be on hand as our supply of items was quite limited and we could not lose an opportunity to note anything of a startling nature. Upon arriving at the scene we discovered a number of Chinamen gathered about one of their numerous cousins who had but a moment before been inveigled into taking hold of the machinery attached to a battery heavily charged with electricity. The Celestial was somewhat puzzled and his friends, together with the crowd, were subjected to a fit of laughter at the expense of the victim.

ENGINE HOUSE SOLD.—In obedience to orders issued by the Common Council, the old frame house which has been occupied by Multnomah Co. No. 2 since 1857, was sold at auction last Saturday morning in order to make room for the new brick structure which is soon to adorn the site. A number of persons were present and considerable competition existed among the bidders. At length the building was knocked down to Mr. S. J. McCormick for the sum of $350. This building is soon to be removed to some other site, where it will be refitted and used as a Society Hall.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.—The Board of Delegates of the Fire Department met at the Police Court Room Saturday evening. Members present—Atkins, Moreland, Campion, Hoff, [illegible] Wetsell, Church, Backinstos, Clark and DuBois. Mr. I. W. Whalley, the President of the Board being absent on motion L. D. Backinstos was chosen temporary Chairman. Journal of the last regular meeting was read and approved. Mr. W. A. Hart asked leave of absence, which was granted by the President. The Board then adjourned, itself without the necessary quorum to transact business adjourned.

REMOVING OBSTRUCTIONS.—We learn that the snag puller under command of Capt. Geo. S. Smith is at work upon the channel of the Upper Willamette removing snags and other obstructions and leaving the river in a fair navigable condition. At present the machine and is at work in Gervais Slough and before the rains set in she will probably ascend the river as high as Lone Tree Rapids, leaving a clear channel in her wake.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, August 2, 1874:

COURTS.—The U. S. Circuit Court will convene this morning at the usual hour. This morning a special term of the Circuit Court for this county will be held to complete the unfinished business on the calendar. The County Court will convene to-day for the transaction of such business as may properly come before it.

BELLS ON THE WAY.—From the Oregon Church[illegible] we learn that a bell weighing 800 pounds is on the way from Philadelphia to Tacoma. It is a loving gift from the old parish of St. Peter's Church in what was once the first of our old Eastern cities to the young parish of St. Peter's Church in what is now the newest city of the West.

THE STAGE.

Charles Wheatleigh is at Maguire's Theater, San Francisco.

Vivian Joe Murphy and Thompson's branch of John Wilson's circus was at Los Angeles, Cal., on the 27th inst.

W. C. Crosbie, the comedian [illegible] says, will be a member of Piper's Company at Virginia City next season.

The Madame Anna Bishop troupe will arrive this evening from the Sound. First performance [illegible] evening.

To-morrow evening the first concert of the series will be given at Masonic Hall by Madame Bishop. Secure your seats early.

Welch and Rice, the clever song and dance men, have closed their engagement with Manager Maguire and are now on their way East.

PERSONAL.

Hon. P. Wasserman returns to Portland on the Stephens after a protracted visit East.

Hon. Stephen J. Field, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is a passenger on the incoming steamer. He will hold a short term of Court here and return by the same steamer.

You never had so nice a view of the rattles, fur, eyes and colors of the rattlesnake as you can have in the Museum.

ONE YEARS' IMPROVEMENTS.

Yesterday one year ago occurred the dreadful fire which swept away over a million dollars worth of property. The incidents of this terrible conflagration are all too fresh in the minds of Portlanders to require reiteration. During the past few days we have traversed the burned district with [illegible] of [illegible] the purpose of noting the various improvements which have already been made during the past year. The following is the result of our labor:

Block 7 on the levee opposite the St. Charles Hotel which was covered with large wooden two and three story buildings has not been wholly rebuilt. At the southern side a two story brick building 100x80 feet has been built, which is [illegible]

Block 75 on which stood a row of wooden buildings and wharf has not been rebuilt. No improvement of any kind have been made in the block, the lots are as [illegible] ing after the fire.

Block [illegible] also covered with [illegible] and wooden buildings has not been rebuilt.

Block 4 covered with brick buildings and wooden structures totally destroyed. The block is about three-fourths rebuilt with large brick buildings.

Block [illegible] about half rebuilt with one story brick buildings.

Block 74 on the levee totally destroyed has been partially rebuilt. Two brick buildings and several wooden ones now stand on this block.

At the foot of Main street the new wharf owned by M. P. Peck & Stephens which was entirely destroyed has not been rebuilt.

Block 72 on the levee which was swept away has been partially rebuilt. Vaughn's [illegible] building, and has been rebuilt and is used as a manufactory, [illegible] the Oregon Furniture Company. Several wooden buildings [illegible] have been constructed.

Block 7[illegible] has only been partially rebuilt. A brick building has been constructed on the southwest corner, and several small wooden ones.

Block 71, the one on which stood the large sawmill and sash and door factory has not been rebuilt.

Block 8, which was covered with inferior wooden buildings has been almost wholly built up. Lunnell's brick market 40x80 feet stands on the northern side, also a number of large wooden structures.

Block 70 on which stood only a few very inferior wooden buildings, has not been rebuilt. About the center of this block Joseph Knott has erected a large and elegant dwelling.

Block 11[illegible] on which stood J. P. Walker's large brick planing mill and a number of wooden structures has not been built up again. Only a few small wooden houses now stand on this block.

Block 114 was wholly swept away except one dwelling house. Six wooden buildings have been constructed.

Block 1[illegible] was completely destroyed but has been partially built up. Sykes' brewery and Honeyman's foundry are the largest buildings on the block.

Block 9 covered with fine large wooden structures totally destroyed has been partially rebuilt. Among the improvements on this block we observe the new engine house of Protection Company No. 1 and several large dwelling houses by Mr. I. S. Kelter.

Block 10 has been about one third rebuilt. McGinn's large bakery and the ice factory stand on this block.

Block 11 entirely swept away only has one building standing on it now and that is the large foundry and machine shop, owned by Smith Bros.

Block 1[illegible] is about two thirds rebuilt with large wooden buildings.

Block 13 is almost entirely rebuilt. One large two story brick has been constructed on the southeast corner. All the rest of the buildings on the block are wooden.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The Boston and Athletic Base Ball Clubs arrived at Liverpool early last week.

Dick Bird had his hands full on Saturday. He was certainly the right man in the right place on such occasion.

Two mixed nines under the names of Crescents of Portland and Athletics of the east side played at East Portland on Saturday. Each party presented several excellent players. Annexed is the result:

Lovers of the national game were treated to plenty of it on Saturday. The most notable event was the final and deciding game between the printers. The OREGONIAN boys who have had "considerable practice"—under their Captain—on good grounds accepted the challenge to play the third game on strange grounds where their opponents calculated to walk over the track with great ease. The OREGONIANS wouldn't grumble but accepted the situation rather than allow their opponents an opportunity to claim any unfairness on the part of the OREGONIANS. At it they went and from the start it was clear the OREGONIANS had [illegible] Lamb's pitching they couldn't manage, and although the best willow wielders of the OREGONIANS nine were not given a chance to bat they found in the supposed weak batters something unlooked for. It was a grand victory—beating the challenging party on grounds of their own choice. The score decides just how it was:

About 4 o'clock on Saturday a picked nine from the Pioneer club and the Arcadians met on the diamond field in East Portland. The game was arranged more from a desire to get a supper than anything else—the nine coming out of the contest with the smallest score was elected to foot the bill. The game with the exception of some wild throwing and several palpable muffs was a good one. The best batters on each side were frequently permitted to take the first base on called or wide balls which was mortifying to the discomfited strikers but it is a trick of the trade and they had to submit. John Raleigh was always there and it is worth something to see him take a fly. He does it so neatly and throws a ball so direct that it is really a pleasure to witness his playing. Barker played well at first base. Blew[illegible] Thompson, Johnson improved behind the bat but his batting was decidedly weak. Mathews caught and [illegible] in his position and Birtle's general playing was admired. McCracken played better than ever at third base while Yates, Cushing and Strong improved in their fielding. With the exception of some poor throws there is little to complain of. The picked nine of the Pioneers were J. Raleigh, [illegible] Northrup, r f Thompson, 2d b, Johnson, [illegible], Buchtel, 3d b, Barker, 1st b, Oliver, [illegible] Raleigh, [illegible] Whiting, c f. Arcadians—Mathews, c, Speck, ss, Bird, p, Cushing, l f, A. Raleigh, 2d b, Yates, r f, Austin, 1st b, Strong, c f, McCraken, 3d b. Annexed is the score by innings:

RELIEF COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF THE RELIEF COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT THE TIME OF THE LATE FIRE, [illegible] ITS LABORS DURING THE LAST TWELVE MONTHS.

Pursuant to announcement made several days ago a meeting was held last Saturday evening by the Relief Committee appointed just after the great fire of August 2, 1873.

There were present Mayor Failing, General Babbitt, [illegible] Richardson, [illegible] Frank W. S. Caldwell, A. B. Hallock and [illegible] Atkinson. The Mayor was voted to the Chair. In the absence of W. S. Ladd, to avoid multiplicity of reports, the Committee on Disbursements, in the absence of Mr. Ladd, Chairman of the General Committee deemed it advisable to accept the report of certain of the members that embodied in their final report such matters relating to the disastrous fire of August 2, 1873, and the steps taken to relieve sufferers thereby, as would under other circumstances be properly subjects of report by other [illegible] The General Committee. Mr. Caldwell on behalf of the Disbursing Committee accordingly read an extended report embracing the following statement of the proceedings of the committee with which he is connected:

The Committee on Disbursements was appointed by you on the 4th of August, 1873, with directions to receive the funds so collected and apply the same to the relief of such persons as are in need, with power to exercise their own discretion in the expenditure of the fund, and consisted of W. S. Caldwell, Chas. H. Lewis, P. Wasserman, Rev. T. L. Eliot, Maj. Harrison, A. B. Hallock and General E. B. Babbitt.

Hon. W. S. Ladd, President of the General Committee, by request, was associated with us in Committee, and until his departure from this State to enjoy a season of rest and recreation we had the full benefit of his sound judgment and large business experience and few in any more fervently hope for his return with greatly improved health and strength than those with whom he has been associated in this work.

We have also missed at our last few meetings the genial presence of Hon. Phil. Wasserman, now on a visit to Fatherland.

The Committee organized on the 7th of August by the election of W. S. Caldwell Chairman, and A. B. Hallock Secretary.

Your Committee entered upon the discharge of their duties with a full appreciation of their responsibilities to the munificent donors of the fund. That while they were generous we must be just and see that no portion of their trust be wrongfully applied or wastefully squandered; to the unfortunate sufferers that they receive the needed assistance promptly and in such manner as to be of the greatest benefit to them; to provide that those who might really need assistance and yet prefer to suffer rather than to make their wants known be sought out and aided, as well as to exercise precaution against imposition and against fostering habits of dependence and indolence.

At the first meeting it was ordered that no moneys be paid out of the Treasury except upon a warrant duly authorized and signed by the Chairman and Secretary. The number of orders is 210.

The number of business meetings held is thirty five besides informal meetings and work in committees, the latter the most arduous and perplexing.

Upon commencing the work the Committee were compelled to work cautiously, and until information was had as to the probable wants of the sufferers, were unable to work upon any fixed plan.

A few days however placed us in possession of the desired information and we could proceed understandingly.

In the meantime dispensing aid to all worthy applicants in small amounts in most cases increased at a later date.

During this time, and while the discussion was progressing among our people generally as to the propriety of accepting aid from abroad the committee was favored with a large amount of advice, some practical suggestions, and and and a fair share of abuse to all of which and especially to the question so often repeated: Why do you not do as was done in other places (Chicago especially) receive all the aid offered, rebuild and set these people up in business. We were too much occupied with our legitimate duties to give that attention which courtesy may have demanded and for the information of our well intentioned but evidently mistaken friends, we crave your indulgence so far as to enable us to present a brief statement of what was done in Chicago.

Chicago in 1871 it was estimated, covered an area of 30 000 acres, upon which were 59 [illegible] buildings, a total valuation of $620,000 000 with a population of 334 270. The fire of October 8th and 9th, 1871 burnt over 2 100 acres (somewhat more than is included in our corporate limits) destroyed 17 450 buildings, and their contents, as follows:

Improvements (buildings)	$[illegible]
Produce, etc.	[illegible]
Manufactures	[illegible]
Other business property	[illegible]
Personal effects	[illegible]
Miscellaneous	[illegible]
Total	$[illegible]

The number of persons thus rendered homeless at the commencement of Winter in a cold climate was 98 500, and about 250 were killed during the progress of the fire.

The organized aid to sufferers after a lapse of a few days was in charge of the Chicago Aid and Relief Society. We regret that we have not their later and complete reports, but from what information we have we gather that on the 15th of November following the amount of donations from all sources and we may say from all parts of the globe was $2,450 851 55 actually paid in and the estimated amounts collected but not received, would swell the amount to about $3 500 000.

As to how and to whom this relief was granted we quote from a circular issued by the Superintendent to the Society, employees October 24th: "You will therefore see the pressing necessity that not a single dollar be appropriated for persons able to provide for themselves, no matter how strongly their claims may be urged by themselves or others. Clerks and persons unaccustomed to outdoor labor, if they cannot find such employment as they have been accustomed to, must take such as is offered or leave the city. Give no aid to any families who are capable of earning their support [illegible] fully employed except it be to supply some needed articles of clothing, bedding or furniture which their earnings will not enable them to procure, and at the same time meet their own expenses of food and fuel. [illegible] No aid should be rendered to persons possessed of property, either personal or real, from which they might, by reasonable exertion, procure the means to supply their wants [illegible] who have friends able to relieve them. Our aid must be held sacred for the aged and the widows and orphans, and to supply [illegible] the actual necessaries of life which, with the best exertions on their part they are unable to procure by their labor.

The penalty of disobedience was [illegible] dismissal.

From the first special report of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, estimates [illegible] were quoted and the report of the Disbursing Committee went on to state:

It is apparent to any one who examines these reports that there [illegible] the frugal management and superior administration [illegible] this vast army of one hundred thousand men, women and children [illegible] the barest necessaries of life during a long and [illegible] severe winter.

In this connection we present the extract from the report of the [illegible] C. Meade, [illegible] H. Stuart and other citizens of Philadelphia who visited Chicago to inquire into the manner in which the donations were being expended.

After an examination of all the [illegible] both in the general direction and [illegible] the detail and [illegible] obtained from all the testimony [illegible] committee [illegible] the [illegible] to distribute the relief in need and supplies contributed to the [illegible] in the [illegible] of the [illegible] by [illegible]

By the report [illegible] the [illegible] were [illegible] sufferers by the fire of August [illegible] as follows:

1—For payment of [illegible] board, lodging, [illegible] $[illegible]
2—For mechanics' tools and stock, and sewing machines [illegible]
3—[illegible] and material for twenty five persons [illegible]
4—[illegible] tickets and board [illegible] 50 15 [illegible]

Paid A. G. Walling, printing posters and blanks	17 00
Paid [illegible] William, posting bills	[illegible]
Paid J. K. Gill & Co., books and stationery	[illegible]
Total expenditures	$[illegible]

Of the 109 persons referred to in the first item eighteen required merely temporary aid, amounting to $370. Of the remaining ninety one were mechanics who received orders for tools in addition and are included in item second.

As near as can be ascertained by the report of your Canvassing Committee, the number of buildings destroyed was 219.

The line of fire was between the Willamette river and Second street, with an average width of less than 800 feet, which enabled occupants of buildings situated a short distance from the point where the fire commenced to remove a portion or all of their effects and although quantities of furniture, etc., were afterwards destroyed by not being removed far enough west, the number who saved nothing was comparatively small.

The occupants of the mills, shops and stores and their employes to a large extent lived outside of the district burned. So that the number who may be said to have been left destitute, especially in the sense in which the term is used in our Eastern cities, was few, if indeed there were any.

There was a sufficient number of vacant houses to supply the demand, in fact your Committee were tendered the use of quite a number of houses free of rent for which we could not obtain tenants in consequence of their being somewhat at a distance from where the parties to whom they were offered expected to get work.

The parties who were the recipients of the generous donation of our citizens were many of them among our oldest and best residents, a large proportion mechanics and laborers and is a class far above the average for intelligence, industry and self reliance.

The plan adopted by the Committee was, upon an application being made or the name of a person supposed to be in need brought to their knowledge, to make inquiries into the present condition of the family or persons, generally by one of our own number who was expected to report and tell, if need be, promptly or through some of the ladies and gentlemen who were kindly assisting us, and also when practicable to learn from the applicant his prospects for work, what were his wants, and what sum in his judgment would be necessary to place him in a position to support himself and family without further assistance. When the applicant was known to be reliable the case was canvassed and the amount and mode of relief fixed by a vote of the Committee, generally at or about the sum named.

In other cases when the applicant was not well known by any member of the Committee or vouched for by a reliable citizen, or when there was a suspicion of exaggeration willful or otherwise the application was more strictly scrutinized. Your Committee are however constrained to admit that among the first applications made were one or two of which they were doubtful and they erred on the charitable side, preferring to aid an unworthy person where the weight of evidence was in their favor rather than to take the risk of declining to aid one who might be entitled to it.

As to the mode of relief to parties well known to be provident as a general rule the Committee assumed that the recipient was the best judge of his most pressing wants and gave him a warrant for the amount or an order for tools or supplies to the value fixed. In other cases the expenditure was made by some member of the Committee or through one of our assistants and in some instances and was furnished only from time to time as needed for immediate wants.

The Committee soon became satisfied that with three months splendid weather in prospect before the rainy season and a reasonable demand for labor, that a large majority of the persons aided would need no further assistance, and after providing for contingencies and a reserve to be used in case the winter should prove severe, were of the opinion that the subscriptions of our own citizens would be sufficient for all reasonable aid and so reported to the General Committee.

We were also assured by several of our wealthy and generous citizens that in case we needed further donations that the money would be forthcoming.

In this connection we call attention to the action of our friends in St. Louis, by which it appears that the sum of $1 230 was remitted to one of our members, Rev. T. L. Eliot, of this amount about $631 was raised at the public meeting mentioned and was considered at the disposal of the Committee, the remainder was to be used by Mr. Eliot at his discretion. A very considerable portion of this last named sum was used by him for the relief of persons who were in need but not sufferers directly by fire thus relieving the Committee from serious embarrassment.

It was understood that the $630 at our disposal would be held by Mr. Eliot until the winter was sufficiently advanced to enable us to know definitely as to whether it would be needed. The winter being mild with but few calls upon our own reserve, in January we requested Mr. Eliot to return it with our thanks.

An article from a St. Louis paper states that the Secretary of the Merchants Exchange was directed to divide the sum equally between the St. Louis Provident Association and the St. Vincent de Paul Society. We present an abstract from the proceedings.

Perhaps it may not be amiss to remind you that in this transaction Portland has taken precisely the same course which St. Louis took in the time of her great calamity from a like cause in 1849.

By the report of the Treasurer herewith it appears the total receipts from all sources were $[illegible]
Warrants for relief paid 12,[illegible]

Showing a balance of $[illegible]

Of this amount certificate of deposit were taken from the Bank of British Columbia, First National Bank and bank of Ladd & Tilton for $[illegible]00 each and are due this day with interest, and your instructions awaited as to the disposition to be made thereof.

We desire to return our sincere thanks to those ladies and gentlemen who assisted us in procuring information and in purchasing and distributing supplies, especially to the officers and members of the Ladies' Relief Society.

Your Committee have no other comments to make on the results and the questions that have arisen in relation to the work. We have endeavored to discharge the duties imposed on us in accordance with what we believe to be the wishes of the donors to the fund, and in a manner consistent with our own sense of honor and a regard for the fair fame of our city. Our hearts have been full of sympathy for those who have lost their property in this great calamity knowing that the fruits of the larger proportion of it were the results of years of patient industry and it has been our desire to relieve them from all danger of immediate want and to enable them to again resume the battle of life, and [illegible] for the kindly feelings of their fellow citizens. More we could not do. The rigid line of duty required at our hands that we so distribute the fund that a careful examination will show that it had been expended [illegible] not lavishly, nor grudgingly, and that we ask [illegible] be done and whatever may be the verdict [illegible] we recall the many hours of patient toil spent in this work we shall have the satisfaction of having done what we considered at the time by the light of our own conscience the right thing to do.

By Mr. [illegible] motion would be made of the surplus [illegible] meeting.

The Chairman replied that it would be well to wait until the report of the Auditing Committee. The question [illegible] of the various meetings [illegible] would be varied among the different [illegible] some [illegible] believed by some of the members that it would be [illegible] under not a little jealousy and ill feeling. Another proposal was that the surplus should be set apart as a permanent fund for the benefit of disabled firemen or the widows and orphans of firemen.

Mr. Caldwell added that the first suggestion was considered impracticable. It could not be carried out with any degree of fairness.

On motion the Committee adjourned until Tuesday evening next for the purpose of receiving the report of the Auditing Committee and making final disposition of the fund remaining on hand.

Curing versus Cobbling.

There are many medicines that give transient relief in sickness without touching the source and seat of the complaint. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is not one of these. The great tonic and restorative does not cobble the diseased and enfeebled system. It is not a mere palliative that only temporarily controls a few unpleasant symptoms. No. Its invigorating, regulating restorative principle penetrates to the very source of the difficulty in the fluids and solids of the body and hence its cures are radical and thorough. In dyspepsia it strengthens the stomach, in liver complaint it regulates the flow of bile, in constipation it promotes a punctual habit of body, in nervous ailments it tones the sentients and motive fibres, in rheumatism it counteracts pain, and in cases of general debility rehabilitates the emaciated frame.

DECIDEDLY ORIENTAL

THE STORY OF ISMAIL [illegible] FAITHFUL [illegible] THAT PUZZLES THE [illegible]

In a number of the [illegible] is related [illegible] ... proposals of marriage made to her. Though would be the most eligible suitors among the heirs of the mightiest nobility of Egypt, and men filling the highest official positions, even a prince, the young lady declined them all.

[illegible]

The next day the Lieutenant appeared in the presence of the father. The Chancellor hardly gave him time to speak before saying: "I know why it seems to you impossible to become my son-in-law, notwithstanding the difference of social position your wish shall be accomplished. Though I do not know you, the love of my daughter is to me sufficient guarantee of your worth."

But instead of the joyful thanks which the Prince naturally expected, he received a reply of the following tenor: "I thank you for your infinite goodness, but this union is impossible. I belong to an old Catholic family. I cannot take home as my wife the daughter of him whom my family regard as an enemy of the Church, whom I myself am almost compelled to look upon as such."

The officer then sadly took his departure, leaving the Chancellor utterly confounded. Having summoned his daughter the Chancellor told her that the officer wholly refused her hand, and that she must forget him.

The daughter, becoming paler than ever, replied: "He is too honorable to deny his religious faith. I will not ask of him such a sacrifice, and if he desires it—less believing than he—will adopt his religion to render our marriage possible." The father saw his child become more inconsolable from day to day, and at length he was thrown into a state of fearful excitement, which was not without consequence. So things stand at present.

A CLERGYMAN AND HIS WIFE KILLED BY A THUNDERBOLT WHILE AT WORSHIP

[Falls Church (Va.) Cor. Washington Star.]

Richard S. Shreve was the Methodist preacher of the Botetourt Circuit and the Rev. John Shreve was the Methodist preacher on an adjoining circuit. On Tuesday last these brothers, with the wife of the first named, had been visiting a friend and returned to the house of the first named near night. The evening meal had been prepared, and before partaking of it family prayer had been proposed. Mr. R. S. Shreve has several children, the eldest of whom is seven. The youngest of them being fretful, the mother directed the eldest to take all of them into an adjoining room and quiet them during worship. The adult persons then seated themselves for family worship, Mr. John Shreve one side of the window, Mrs. Richard Shreve sat opposite to him, Mr. Richard Shreve seating himself in front of the window and the servant girl was seated near the table in the center of the room. The Bible had but just been passed to John Shreve to commence the service when the death dealing electric stroke came. The heavens were overcast with a dark, angry cloud and a few large scattering drops of water had fallen as the only premonitions or precursors of that awful electric stroke. The eldest of the children came into the room immediately after the report, and surveyed the scene and gives the only intelligible account. Her father and mother were prostrate on the floor. Mr. John Shreve was staggering about the room, uttering some incoherent words, and soon fell to the floor. The servant girl was paralyzed with terror. The little girl thought to place her hand over her father's heart, and it was still beating. The nearest neighbor was half a mile distant. The servant girl was unaccounted with the road, and finally the eldest girl leaving the other children in that house of death piloted the servant girl through the storm to the nearest neighbor for aid. The Rev. John Shreve recovered but the electric bolt did its perfect work with Richard S. Shreve and his wife, furnishing one of the most startling examples on record of the truth of the line in the burial service in the Book of Common Prayer to wit: "In the midst of life we are in death."

HUMOROUS

The Schenectady Star is responsible for the statement that a June bug buzzing around in a dark Watertown parlor flew against a young lady's face with such force as to become hopelessly entangled in her beau's moustache.

The most recent and thrilling zoological story is tragical. A cat in Massachusetts bereaved of her young, adopted a set of little muskrats. When their eyes were opened and they saw what kind of mother fate had bestowed upon them, they so loudly complained that the benevolent cat became both hungry and indignant and ate every one of them.

The corrupt practices of which Mr. Grant, the English member of Parliament, has been convicted consisted chiefly in ordering [illegible] carpets [illegible] Kidderminster manufacture during the time of his candidacy in that borough. So liberal a patron of local industry was, of course, deserving of election, but the judges thought it was too much like bribery and corruption.

The most practical lover has been discovered at Bristol, England. In one of his letters to his sailor he wrote: "I wish, my darling, that you would not write me such long letters. If you were to bring an action for breach of promise against me the lawyers would copy the correspondence between us and charge fourpence for every folio of seventy two words. The shorter the letters the more we save from the lawyers."

In spite of the thunders of excommunication, says the Debats, launched by the Vatican against the popular elections of cures, these nominations do not the less continue to become more numerous in the Italian peninsula. Last week the inhabitants of the commune of [illegible] (province of Arezzo) proceeded to choose their cure. One hundred and thirty fathers of families took part in the vote, which gave the majority to the Priest [illegible]. A few ballots only bore this inscription: Pur [illegible] —let the bishop make provision.

BUTLER'S HOOKER.—Gen. Butler has made public reply to the statement attributed to Gen. Hooker that when Butler was in command of the army of the James river he required the colored troops to deposit their money and valuables at headquarters for safe keeping, and that when one of the poor devils got knocked over and put under ground, do you suppose the money he left at Butler's headquarters was ever heard from again? Butler made at least $1,000,000 in this way. Butler says the exact contrary to this slander. "That a savings bank was established at Norfolk, Virginia, for the benefit of the colored troops so that they might have a place to deposit their money in, under the charge of the quartermaster of the army, which was transferred to the Freedmen's bureau at the close of the war, and the accounts were duly settled and vouchers given for a long time after Gen. Butler was relieved of the command of the army of the James. If hereafter after 10 years careful espionage into my affairs by every enemy of mine with equal fearlessness that every accusation touching my acts during the war, in civil administration is equally untrue, and I defy proof or probable evidence to the contrary."

THE PITTSBURG CALAMITY

A [illegible] Over forty dead bodies have already been taken out. The City Engineer [illegible] says that it will require over $100,000 to repair the streets of Pittsburg alone. Many of the streets are washed away.

During the [illegible] evening the [illegible] byterian church at Wilkinsburg was struck by lightning and the congregation were ignorant of the fact till after the service, when it was discovered the roof was splintered.

At a meeting of the citizens of Pittsburg and Allegheny last night a large number of city officials and prominent citizens attended. Mayor Fleming reported a number of subscriptions. About $10,000 was subscribed at the meeting, and a committee was appointed to receive subscriptions in aid of the sufferers, and certain banks were named as depositories for subscriptions.

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco 11s d@ 1s [illegible] for average California and 11s 10d@12s 1d for club.

Our local money market is still in an easy working condition, rates being steady, but lenders exercising less control of the market. Accommodations on prime commercial paper are readily offered at 1 per cent, while better terms are not uncommonly granted to first class customers of the city banks. With the aid which will come from the outside there will be no lack of funds to move the grain crop.

The movement in wheat will begin next week, when the department of trade is likely to assume great deal of activity, as a number of ships are likely to be here within the next month to load. The prospect for prices has not changed in any of its features.

Oregon Wools

Mr. N. D. Crockett, who has charge of the wool sorting department of the Salem woolen mills, says in the Record with regard to the recent statement in California papers with respect to the inferiority of Oregon wool, that they are entirely incorrect, judging by his experience. During the five years ending this month he has handled 400,000 pounds of Oregon wool brought from all parts of the Willamette Valley and while there has been a very even grade during those years he considers the wool that has passed through his hands the present season little inferior to the excellent clip of 1870 and better than the product of any of the intermediate years. He remarks that the quality of the wool corresponds somewhat with the character of our seasons, as a large amount of rainfall is followed by a better grade of wool. He has also noticed that when wheat commanded a high price our people are apt to neglect sheep husbandry for wheat culture, at least his observation justify the conclusion that sheep are better cared for and fed when wheat is low priced. He adds that during the same time (five years) he has handled 600,000 pounds of California wool and has noticed in almost every case the same weakness that is charged to Oregon wool and that too when it was three grades finer.

Eastern Wool Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

BOSTON, August 1—Domestic wool continues to come forward freely from all points and receipts all largely exceed any previous year in the history of the trade. Early in the week trade was comparatively quiet but for the past few days buyers have been quite numerous, including many leading manufacturers and sales foot up a fair average. There is no change in prices. Holders are not disposed to urge a sale. There is a decided falling off in transactions in California but this is in consequence of an assortment offering. For some months past manufacturers have been drawing largely on this kind and the bulk of the clip has already passed into their hands. The bulk of the sales during the past week has been made at from 30c to 40c, and prices are upward. Owing to previous rates desirable lots of pulled are scarce and wanted. The stock has been reduced so low that round lots of any kind are difficult to find.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. [illegible] 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Syphilis in all its forms, [illegible] Weakness, Impotency, etc. Diseases (of years standing) Ulcerated Legs [illegible] cured.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal [illegible] of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of [illegible] San Francisco, where his old patients and [illegible] requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor [illegible] seeking out new remedies, and has returned [illegible] increased facilities for the alleviation of [illegible] suffering.

Horrible Disease

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret [illegible] from a [illegible] absorbed into the system! [illegible] pallid, emaciated and disfigured [illegible] broken down constitutions, disqualified [illegible] the happiness of marriage or the [illegible]. In this horrid situation [illegible] closes the scene. Let parents [illegible] tend to those who are [illegible] horrible, life destroying [illegible] cured for and cured [illegible] in moderately to DR. GIBBON [illegible] made private diseases his [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most [illegible] without mercury or any [illegible] portant to those who are [illegible] are interested in the welfare of their [illegible] careful of the many pretended [illegible] all cities, publishing their [illegible] in a few days imposing upon the [illegible] the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore [illegible] inquiry or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved [illegible] practiced, by the youth of both [illegible] to an almost unlimited extent, producing with [illegible] the following train of morbid symptoms [illegible] combatted by scientific medical [illegible] viz. Sallow count[illegible], dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] of the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, [illegible] to [illegible] memory, hectic flushes, pimply and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats [illegible] and frequently [illegible]. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific [illegible] of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are laboring under any of the [illegible] fearful [illegible] ... forget the sacred [illegible] nor delay to obtain [illegible] relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to patient a written instrument, binding him to effect a radical and permanent cure, or no charge.

Cured at Home

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, [illegible] symptoms, length of time the disease [illegible] and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity to any part of the [illegible] with full and plain directions. By [illegible] Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a [illegible] of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates [illegible] the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and [illegible] newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible] carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many [illegible]. As for advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive you by exhibiting [illegible] titles, certificates, pretended patients' [illegible] Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat [illegible] that he [illegible] to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney [illegible] per Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will [illegible] inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6dlp
